

Offerstories

Parking Lot

Have you had enough rain this week? Me too! I am thankful that you are here and that this will be one of the last weeks some of you will have to trudge through the mud to get into the church.

In two weeks, for the first time in our church's history, we'll have a paved parking lot. It might seem like a small thing but our goal is to take away any obstacle that might hinder people who don't know Jesus from coming to church. The amazing thing about you all is that we didn't have a fundraiser or a campaign. We just communicated the need and you gave. By the time the cement is dry we hope to have the parking lot paid for without a penny of debt to the church. The parking lot is a statement to all of us that we're serious about reaching unchurched people.

This time in our worship service is important, not because of a simple upgrade to our property, but because we know that company's coming. We want to be prepared to share Jesus with them and remove any obstacle or excuse that might be in their way.

Let's pray as we give.